REPORT NO.

THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. One sin-1c-engine plane and 19 aircraft without propellers were seen at the Grossenhain (N 52/A 01) airfield between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on 2 October 1950. (1)
2. Parts of the concrete runways were bordered by lamps, about 20 cm in diameter, which were set up about 30 meters apart. Six searchlights 40-cm in diameter, fitted on poles 2 meters high were on the western edge of the field. There was a row of three similar searchlights on 2-meter poles between Polbern (N 52/A 01) and the southeastern border of the field. (2) A radio mast with four guy wires and a truck with a box-like superstructure were west of Polbern. A similar radio station was seen near a farmhouse 250 meters west of the field. (3) A radar set, about 10 meters high, with a long crossbar was about 800 meters north of the field. (4) A straw stack was behind the radar set and two trucks with box-like superstructures were on each side.
3. Tracks of German and Soviet aircraft were in the northwestern section of the field. A fuel dump with about 12 containers, each the size of a railroad tank car, was on the northern edge of the field. The dump was fenced in by barbed wire and was carefully guarded. (5) A wooden tower, about 8 meters high, which was not guarded, was in the strip of wood in the northwestern corner of the field. A concrete bunker 5 meters square was next to the tower. Embankments, 4 to 6 meters high, bordered on the woods farther to the east. The eastern and western edges of the field were surrounded by a wire fence which was partially damaged. A guardhouse was on the loading ramp on the western edge of the field. Some sentries at the field were accompanied by dogs.
4. A large barracks block which was occupied by Volkspolizei was southwest of the field. (6)

Comments.

- (1) Report confirms the occupation of the field by fighters. Two fighter regiments, equipped with MIG-15s, are believed to be still stationed there. Only a few conventional fighters seem to be still stationed at
